Dear Friend

This unique e-book has 1 simple goal...

“To help you discover and understand the full dynamics of the dating game, so you can find and enjoy lasting love and happiness as rapidly as possible.

This book reveals part of the missing code to your dating success!”

Further, you can also be confident this book is going to be of value, if you answer “yes” to any of the following questions;

Are you;

- Looking to start a new loving relationship?
- Frustrated at your lack of dating success?
- Trying to move on from a past relationship?
- Confused as to why your relationships never seem to last?
- Searching desperately for a new partner without success?
- Becoming depressed at being alone?
- Wondering if you will ever find love again?
- Convinced that as a single parent, nobody will be interested in you?

Ok.

Here's the good news...

You have the POWER to positively transform your existing relationship frustrations into relationship success and much more rapidly than you think!

And to make that happen...

you just need to learn how to pinpoint and change certain, hidden key elements of your approach!

You see, at the moment you are probably doing what most other people do when the game of love deals yet another dud hand...

continuing to do exactly the same things in the exactly the same way, over and over again, but expecting a different result!

You know that what you're doing isn't working, yet you keep on doing it in the hope that something will change and you will find lasting dating success.

(Btw, let's make it clear...I don't mean trying something for a few days and then wondering why it's not working. I'm referring to doing certain things the same way for weeks, months or even years and then wondering why they're not working.)

Now, while it's possible that you might find success following these same actions, in all honesty it's highly probable you won't.

But please relax...

Wanting your situation to change without actually doing anything different is definitely an unorthodox approach to take, yet it's a common approach taken by virtually all of us and on a regular basis.

Here's the thing.

When it comes to understanding how the mechanics of your life experiences REALLY fit together, there's a vital piece of knowledge that most people have missing ...

A vital piece of knowledge that you weren't taught in school, college or University.

And that is...

“You create your reality from the inside out. Reality is NOT created and experienced from the outside in!”

Confused?

Then please allow me to explain

But just before we get into that explanation, you might find it of benefit to quickly find out who I am and discover why I'm qualified to be talking about your dating experiences in this way.

Ok.

My name is Peter Anglin and I'm a highly successful Dating Coach. I am also the owner of a Coaching and Consultancy company based in London called PA Consulting – www.consultingpa.co.uk

I am a qualified Coach, NLP Practitioner (NLP is Neuro-Linguistic Programming), Dating expert and Chemistry graduate.

Now, I'm not reeling off my qualifications to try and impress, I'm just letting you know about them because of what they mean in terms of my offering coaching guidance and advice to YOU.

In short, I have taken time to study human potential and behaviour through NLP and Coaching and I have a naturally investigative and analytical nature, which is borne out through my studying a classic science, Chemistry.

These 3 areas of learning fit together extremely well and have afforded me a deeper insight into the mechanics of life when compared to your average Life Coach.

Couple this with a 12 year history of working within the Dating industry as a supplier, developer, marketer, user and reviewer of UK and international dating products, you can rest assured that you will be getting quality, insightful and most importantly, helpful information from me regarding your dating advice.

Now, during those 12 years of working within the dating game, I've;

- Run an online psychic dating, love and relationship service for the UK celebrity Cilla Black
- Personally managed and run several, multi-million pound dating services in the UK national media (inc. The Times, Sunday Times, Capital Radio Group & Daily Mail Group)
- Managed a dating service for one of the UK's leading mobile networks, Orange Telecom
- Helped write and compose well over 1000 personal ads for daters
- Devised marketing strategies for numerous dating services
- Promoted, organised and run numerous singles events, with sometimes up to 700 people per event and
- Interviewed hundreds of users of various dating products

So when you put my 12 years of dating experience together with my Coaching and NLP experience, you find a Dating Coach with highly relevant and extensive credentials.

A Dating Coach who is ready and willing to help YOU transform your current and unsatisfactory relationship status, into a relationship status you want and will be happy with.

Great.

Now you know a little more about me and how I can potentially be of value to you, let's get back to where we were.

Oh yes – how you create your reality from the inside out and not vice versa.

You might be thinking, “Ok, sounds interesting Pete, but what does that have to do with me become a dating success? Can you show me what I need to DO?”

Basically, your internal “stuff” has everything to do with your external success and “yes”, I can show you what to do, but it won't be what you think.

You see, if you were to look in other books to find the answer to your what-to-do question, you'll most probably find the following kinds of responses;

- Use a variety of dating services
- Don't be too picky
- Don't try be a comedian if you're not naturally funny
- Upload a life-like and up-to-date picture
- Be honest in your profile
- JUST BE YOURSELF!!!

○ Etc, etc.

Yes, these other books make some good and valid points and yes, they will help you if followed. But what if you are following all these pointers already? What if you are being yourself? And what if you still aren't getting the success you want – then what?

Let's quickly review what you read a little earlier...

“...at the moment you are probably doing what most other people do when things aren't going right...

continuing to do exactly the same things in exactly the same way, over and over again!

You know that what you're doing isn't working, yet you keep on doing it in the hope that something will change.”

In other words, this is saying that when things aren't working, you need to recognise its time to change your approach, in order to give yourself a significantly greater chance of success.

It's not that you are not trying, because I know you are. It's just the WAY you are trying needs to be looked at, as opposed to the actual degree of effort (although this may actually need reviewing and re-focussing too).

The external strategies you are using, i.e. the dating products, agencies, etc. are all fine and working perfectly. Of course you should always look to optimise the way they are working for you, but as a dating aide, they are absolutely fine and truly valuable.

However, in order for those aides to do their job as effectively as possible,

You need to look at what is going on inside you and if necessary, change that first!

Inside is where the most powerful solution to your current dating challenge lies.

You can re-write profiles, upload more pictures, record voice greetings, change this, that and the other ad infinitum. But until you change what's going on internally, until you recalibrate certain crucial thought processes, the external part becomes severely limited in what success it can deliver you.

Ok – let's get a little deeper now.

Your success in the dating game, your success in love and ultimately your success in life, is most affected by the following factors;

- Your degree of self-belief/confidence
- The nature of your regular internal dialogue (what you tend to say to yourself)
- The nature of your regular internal imagery (the pictures you tend to see in your mind)
- Your expectations and deep-seated beliefs

Why?

Because it is these factors that influence what you write in your profile. It is these elements which are somehow projected through your eyes in your profile pictures. It is these qualitative and not quantitative components, which help you attract your perfect date or soul mate.

Your inner goings on act as magnets to elements in the outside world and literally magnetize or attract things to you – in this case, a partner!

Grab The Date Vinci Code Confidential here <http://www.datecoachingexpert.co.uk>

Tell me.

If you're the kind of person who has low levels of confidence, often says many negative statements to yourself, can't really "see" yourself in a relationship and doesn't really believe that dating actually works for people like you, how successful do you think you'll be with dating?.

Precisely, not very!

Now, don't get me wrong, I'm not saying that the above example is supposed to definitely describe you, even though it might. It was simply put up to highlight a point.

The point that your internal "settings" are really the key to what you experience in external reality.

As Henry Ford once said,

"If you think you can, or you think you can't, you're entirely right"

Your inner settings are the gauge, the filter through which your life experience flows and is perceived.

So the solution to your ongoing dating situation initially is not to twiddle, tweak and tune the knobs on your dating profiles, but to;

- Increase and develop your confidence levels
- Recalibrate your self-talk so you are saying more positive things more often to yourself and saying more positive things about your relationship status
- Picture yourself doing and having whatever it is that a relationship represents to you and

Grab The Date Vinci Code Confidential here <http://www.datecoachingexpert.co.uk>

- Uncover your limiting, restrictive and often un-founded beliefs in regard to you and dating and replace them with expansive, positive and well-founded ones.

When you understand and start acting on these factors, that is when the fun begins.

Seriously!

Once you harness and start to consciously use the transformative power of your inner reality, you are going to be blown away at the impact it can have on your experiential life.

Things that only a short while ago which you thought were “just so”, can completely change and cause you to scratch your head in bewilderment.

This really is a discovery that can change your life for the better forever and not only in dating, but in EVERYTHING else you do too!

In time, it will soon become crystal clear that YOU have always been the one in control of your destiny, but you just never knew or truly believed it.

Your dating success, therefore, starts on the inside and then magnetizes that same success on the outside...in real life.

You'll see that once you change your inner settings, whatever dating products and/or services you are using, will also start to mirror those changes and you will notice you begin to get much better results.

It is therefore the changing of your key inner elements in conjunction with the dating products used, that virtually guarantees your dating success every time.

The products are an essential part of the mix because they are one of your main success conduits. They become like a connector between you and your new internal settings and the person you are yet to meet. If you like, the products are the facilitator or the broker of the “deal”.

There is a great film that represents this inner/outer concept perfectly – it’s called Field Of Dreams and features Kevin Costner – you may know it?

Whist there isn’t time to outline the entire film here, in short KC has a lifelong dream of building a baseball stadium, but has major concerns that he won’t be able to attract any custom. Nonetheless, not only does he succeed in building it in the end, he also manages to pack it to the rafters with hungry baseball fans!

Now, the main quote from the film, which was delivered to KC during a profound vision and conversation he had with a deceased baseball hero (remember it’s a film), is

“If you build it, they will come”

And this he truly did and “they”, his customers did come. So, although he ended up physically building the stadium, he did his internal building first and then externalised it. In other words, he made his dreams become reality. The reality came 2nd, not 1st.

And that is the way it is with your dating success and in fact anything you achieve in life. It’s just that most of the time when success and/or achievements happen in our lives, they tend to happen through an unconsciously realised process.

Now, however, you will have a distinct advantage over life moving forward, because you have learned how to unleash this fantastic, transformative strategy with full and conscious intent.

You can now start to consciously CONTROL your success process!

And how good does that sound?

So, if true dating success is a dream you want to realise but thus far haven't been able to, then let me help you manifest it in your life.

Together we can start to make your dreams become a concrete reality!
